We are looking for dynamic, motivated individuals to deliver training courses of outstanding quality to adults with learning disabilities in Croydon.

Willow Learning for Life is a community interest company working in partnership with Croydon Mencap on a project funded by Croydon Mencap and the Lottery.

People with learning disabilities in Croydon have said that they don't go out as much as they would like, because they are afraid that others won't understand their needs, and that they will be laughed at.

Find out, Join in, Thrive will train people with learning disabilities to teach local businesses how to welcome, understand and respect them.

It will also train people with LD to check businesses are doing what they should, by being 'secret shoppers'.

After completing this course students will have:

- Improved listening and speaking skills
- Improved teamworking skills
- Improved their interview technique and participated in interviews with local businesses and adults with LD
- Have a great awareness of the needs of businesses and adults with LD
- Identified what good customer service is
- Identified best practice in customer service in the local area
- Designed a customer service course for local businesses focusing on additional needs
- Helped produce training documents and videos.
- Taken a role in the delivery of a training course for local businesses
- Completed a City and Guilds Employability Award E3.
